CAN YOU HELP THE ST PETROC'S SOCIETY?

The Society provides accommodation, support, advice, training and re-settlement services to single homeless people in Cornwall. Surprisingly, Cornwall has one of the highest rates of homeless people in the country and in these days of austerity the Society works with people for whom no other provision is available, either statutory or otherwise. There are a great many reasons why people become homeless and so there are a range of services available :-

- Cold weather provision for rough sleepers
- 'No second night out' service which tries to find positive housing out-comes for first time rough sleepers
- Supported accommodation houses including 2 in Bodmin
- Resettlement services and private sector leasing properties, as well as Smartmove bonds providing a guarantee for landlords
- Street outreach teams and resources centres
- A hospital discharge scheme in partnership with Cornwall Council and the NHS.

There is a lot of work going on across Cornwall requiring financial and volunteer support. A 'Friends' group operates in the Bodmin area and it would welcome new members to offer practical and fundraising work. Please contact Jenny Simmons on 01208 77655 if you are interested.

ANYONE OUT THERE WITH SIMILAR INTERESTS?

I find I am missing the U3A I used to belong to in Lincolnshire, the interest groups and the friendships, and I wondered if anyone would consider forming a discussion group. It could meet during the day and discuss serious matters such as the NHS, education, green matters, community things, happiness, the idea of becoming a transition community, etc.The other things I miss are the daytime visits to places of interest and the friends I used to have who shared my love of arts and crafts and the workshops we usd to have.
My phone no is 821843 and email jbowenjones179@btinternet.com and I would be delighted if anyone wanted to get in touch and express an interest or discuss any ideas.

LAUNCESTON

An illustrated tour of this historic town at the History Group meeting.

First of all, a huge thank you to everyone who donated and purchased cakes from our Macmillan stall, the total came to £105.14, so £84.24 was from cake sales. This is a brilliant result, and speaks volumes about the generosity and community spirit present within our parish.

More cake news, we have a new supplier in the form of Dee who is having a trial run.

CHURCH NEWS

We are delighted that there is now an incumbent in the Vicarage in St Neot, and hope Philip and his wife Victoria will enjoy their time in Cornwall.

The family and friends of the late Roger Farnworth have planted a young apple tree in a corner of the church field in his memory, with a commemorative plaque. Some years ago Roger discovered a previously unknown variety of apple tree in the former rectory garden, so he registered it and called it Densham's Delight. It may be some time before it bears fruit, but if and when it does we shall have a parish tasting!

Many thanks to everyone who supported the Harvest Auction; £125 has been sent to the F.U.M. for their work in hospitals, etc, in Tanzania.

On Saturday 28th November from 10-12 in the Jubilee Hall there will be an Advent Bazaar in aid of church funds. There will be the usual stalls, raffle and pasties, tea / coffee, etc. and we welcome anything (portable) that is saleable, as well as raffle prizes.

The United Carol Service this year will take place in Mount Chapel on Tuesday December 8th at 7pm.

Christmas Eve 'Carols by Candlelight' at 6.30pm will be followed by mincepies and mulled wine at Chykest by kind invitation of John and Gill Keast.

Christmas Day Holy Communion 9.30am

NOTES FROM THE VICARAGE

Victoria and I are settling into the villages and vicarage and have enjoyed meeting people, watching Rugby at 'The Club' and sharing worship with many, both at St Neot and at Warleggan. Thank you for your welcome, both at the churches and in the villages. Given the 'part time' nature of my appointment, over the coming weeks I hope to be able to get into some sort of routine that will work for us all - most of the time. In the meantime, if you wish to make contact with me, my email address is vicar@saintneot.church which will be the most efficient way of contacting me, especially once we have a phone line and internet at the vicarage! Of course, existing contact details for St Neot and Warleggan Churches remain unchanged.

At the moment the rhythm and celebration of Christian life and festivals will remain unchanged at Warleggan so do put the Christmas services in your diaries Carols by Candlelight on Christmas Eve at 6.30pm and Holy Communion at 9.30am on Christmas Day - I look forward to meeting you. Some of you may have been able to come to the service at St Neot on November 1st in the evening, when we remembered those dear to us who have died. The service included the lighting of candles during the service, and some took those lighted candles from the church to gravesides. This time together for remembering family and friends who have died will be repeated next year.

If you are considering getting married here at Warleggan or St Neot, or considering baptism or confirmation sometime during 2016, do please make contact early. In order to offer the best we possibly can - several months notice really helps. Just speak to me at church on a Sunday and we can arrange a time to meet.

So now as the harvest is gathered in, the evenings draw in, and the clocks go back, the supermarket shelves and our thoughts start to turn towards the second most important Christian festival - Christmas. However, before we celebrate Christ's birth there is much more that is rich in villages and churches to enjoy as we prepare for that celebration.

I look forward to meeting you, Philip

NEWS FROM HILL COVE, WEST FALKLAND

We may think that farming in the UK can be tough at times but I have just received an email from Susie Hansen who as many of you know, lives on the Falkland Islands. Below is Susie's latest news ..

*"…life has been crazy busy now even more so since a lightening strike has set my farm on fire ..... Well a part of it my ewe camps. Isolation hits home, it was day 3 before I could get any help, a friend with tractor & rotovator. Today (*Sunday 1st November I received this email – Ed.) fire fighters from Stanley will arrive, I will be accommodating and feeding them until they get the fire under control and next week I get the shearers too! Luckily Matthew my son was home on half term thank God it meant I've not been alone. Stress levels are very high and I have not slept since it started. It is very depressing and sad, so much wild life has been wiped out by the fire the little birds, geese nesting etc. In addition to which I have lost a lot of my land, much of it will not recover; we know this because of similar fires previously on the Falklands years ago. It just shows how vulnerable we are to nature.

Photos from Friday afternoon before Matthew and I moved the tractor out of the way! At this stage I had no help, yesterday Fraser arrived with tractor and rotovator to try and contain it."

I don't think any of us can begin to imagine the life Susie lives on the Falklands and our thoughts are with her. The fact that when the firemen eventually arrive you have to give them accommodation and feed them for however long they are required. We are so lucky that when we dial 999 the Emergency Services are normally with us within 20 minutes!
